Samoan Rugby Team to arrive in Iwaki for training camps this Month!

The 2019 Rugby World Cup will finally kick off this month. In the lead up to the games, the Samoan National Rugby Team, also known as "Manu Samoa", will come to Iwaki to take part in pre-tournament training camps over a six-day period of 10th-15th September. This is part of the Host Town agreement signed between Iwaki and Samoa to help promote sports, cultural exchange and regional revitalisation.

Manu Samoa will be training at Iwaki Green Field and Iwaki FC Park as well as take part in several exchanges with locals. If you would like to meet the players and watch the team training, the following training session will be open to the public for one hour.

Manu Samoa Training Session Open to the Public

Date: Friday, 13th September

Time: 11am-12pm

Venue: Iwaki Green Field (inside 21st Century Forest Park)

*After the training session, there will also be a group photo with Iwaki residents and an opportunity to shake hands with the players

As part of Iwaki's support of Samoa after the training camps, a live screening of the Japan vs. Samoa Rugby match will also be displayed inside AEON Mall Iwaki-Onahama on Saturday, 5th October from 6:30pm. The public screening will feature guest commentary from a former Japanese National Rugby Team player.

If you are lucky to spot some of the players around town during their time in Iwaki, remember to say "Talofa" and "Go Manu Samoa!"
